Introduction to the Seasons – First Facts for Young Nature Explorers

4 cardboard picture books with delightful rhymes and imaginative illustrations teach toddlers about what the animals do during the seasons

Henrike Lipka, Katharina Staar
It's Springtime Here in the Forest

Board Book Ages 18 month + | 16 Pages

Spring is approaching! With the first warm rays of sunshine, flowers and many animals dare to come out. The fox family has had sweet offspring, the titmice are building a nest, the deer is enjoying delicious buds and the bees are buzzing around. Things are so lively in the forest, and soon the animals will be looking forward to summer.

Henrike Lipka, Katharina Staar
It's Summer Here in the Forest

Board Book Ages 18 month + | 16 Pages

It's summertime and the temperatures are rising while everything is teeming with life. The woods all around are green and the sun shines almost all day. Insects are buzzing, hares are munching and the wild boar family is looking to cool off in the damp mud. The frogs make a croaking concert while the little deer listens in the balmy evening breeze. With the first colourful leaves, however, autumn starts to announce itself.

Henrike Lipka, Katharina Staar
It's Autumn Here in the Forest

Board Book Ages 18 month + | 16 Pages

Autumn is drawing in, and the woodland animals are making their own special preparations, just like Mother Nature. Look what's going on here in the forest! The hedgehog and the bear are fattening themselves up for winter, while the fawn is enjoying the warm sunshine. A squirrel is busily digging up nuts. The leaves are turning multi-coloured, it's raining, and the migratory birds are heading off for warmer climes.

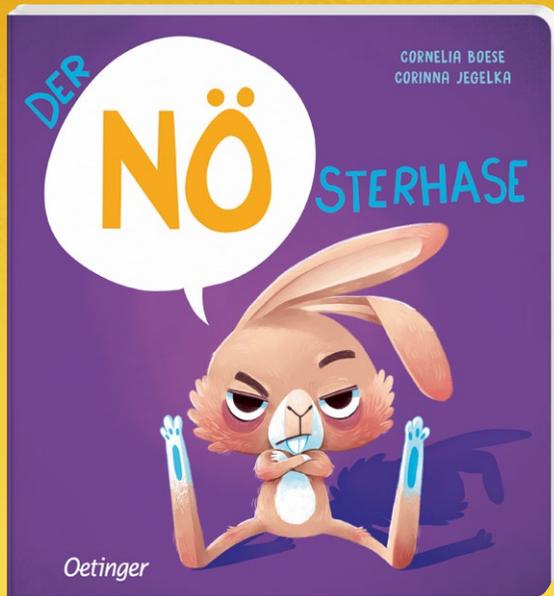

Henrike Lipka, Katharina Staar
It's Winter Here in the Forest

Board Book Ages 18 month + | 16 Pages

Look – the first snowflakes are falling in the forest! The trees will soon be dusted with snow, and the woodland animals are starting to feel cold. But what do the bear, the fox, the squirrel, the hedgehog, and the little mouse do when winter arrives? Some of them become tired and sleep the winter away, while others continue to frisk around.

The Easter BunNo

Board Book Ages 24 month + | 16 Pages

You cannot miss out on this grumpy, funny bunny

NO and MINE! The BunNo guides you cheekily and without pointing a finger through the autonomy phase and provides amusing breaks in the stressful Easter preparations

The funny illustrations will delight young and old alike

NO, NO, NO! The grumpy, grouchy Easter bunny has no desire at all to share his sweets with the other animals in the forest. As the BunNo, he comes up with an ingenious plan to hide the chocolate and sweets so that no one can eat them. He hops straight through the forest and stashes his sweets in nests, hedges and holes in the ground. Who could have guessed that the other animals would find his treasures – and even think they were presents? The Easter Bunny didn't think that they would want to share and celebrate Easter with him. Maybe it's not so bad after all ...?

I Don't Want to Wash My Hair
Board Book Ages 24 month + | 26 Pages

Funny participatory book: innovative hands-on concept for the ever-popular everyday topic of washing hair

Favourite animals like lion and elephant become identification figures for the little ones and help them with their hair-washing fears without pointing the finger

Mud party with the wild animals – and then everyone has to wash their hair. Ewww! Fortunately, in this fun participatory book, the youngest readers can help by tapping, shouting, shaking, and blowing so that the lion, zebra, llama, and elephant dare to do it. In the end, the animals are clean again and happy because it was much more fun than they thought. In addition to the great fun, the monkey that has been hiding must be found on each page. A new favourite book for little bath-avoiders!

Ouch, Sniff, Hash! – Doctor Mouse Helps Every Animal Child
Board Book Ages 24 month + | 16 Pages

A fun and modern illustrated cardboard picture book to make a visit to the doctor easier

With funny rhymes, cute favourite animals, and lots of details to discover

A day in the animal children's practice of Doctor Mouse: The pony has a tummy ache, the little chick needs glasses, the bunnies need a vaccination, and the crab has to have a plaster stuck on. In between, there is even an emergency: the elephant has fallen off his bike and now his trunk needs a plaster! Fortunately, Doctor Mouse always knows exactly what his patients need to be able to laugh again quickly.

FEE FI FO FART
Board Book Ages 24 month + | 16 Pages

A funny cardboard picture book all about farting and burping, which not only reduces the shame of a completely normal thing, but also invites children to talk along with funny rhymes

Faaaaart! What was that noise? And what's that smell? The owl has to fart, how embarrassing! But don't we all have to? Because as soon as the page is turned, one animal after another lets out a fart: first the cricket, then the frog, then the sheep, the eagle, the hedgehog, and the rabbit. At the end, the contagious fart even comes back to the owl and you can immediately read the book all over again!

Friends Without End!

Wonderfully told stories about friendship with a large portion of humour – lovingly illustrated true to the original Janosch characters

Florian Fickel, Johanna Seipelt
Featuring Characters by Janosch.
Why I Love You so Much

Board Book Ages 36 month + | 16 Pages

A touching story about love for the little ones, with a lot of humour and heart

“Bear, do you actually love me?”, the little tiger asks the little bear one day. “Of course”, answers the little bear. Then the little tiger starts to change his stripes: from lengthwise to crosswise, in zigzags, dots and finally he is motley. Does the little bear love him like that? And why does he love him? A touching story full of wit, poetry and heart – for everyone who loves each other.

Florian Fickel, Johanna Seipelt
Featuring Characters by Janosch.
When the Bear Was Sad Once (and Suddenly Had to Laugh so Much)

Board Book Ages 36 month + | 16 Pages

What helps when you are sad? A best friend and lots of laughter!

The little tiger is sad. Why? He doesn't know exactly. Just sad. How good that he has the little bear! Because he knows what to do: If you're sad, you need to do something. And something funny! And so the little tiger becomes a little less sad. And in the end? He even has to laugh a lot! How did the little bear do it? A funny and beautiful story that shows: Being sad is part of life and humour is the best antidote.

Lots of Sea Creatures With Harebrained Names and How They Got Them (for Sure)

Picture Book Ages 4+ | 32 Pages

Guaranteed to be the funniest book about sea creatures – original and fresh style with collages of illustrations and photos

Reading fun for the whole family, with a little tidbit of knowledge about the inhabitants of the ocean

In witty rhymes, bestselling author Anne-Kristin zur Brügge tells how the sea creatures got their totally daft names. Are the stories true? I have no idea! But they are definitely really funny and make you want to go to sea!

“There are lots of animals in the sea – though none of them look like you or me.

Some of them have funny heads and tails, like sharks and rays and great big whales.

Once no one had the slightest notion of what was living in the ocean,

But the animals had their fun and games, so how did all of them get their names?”

How Does the Forest Sleep?
 Board Book Ages 24 month+ | 16 Pages

Top topics: sleep and the forest – scientifically sound yet delightfully narrated by the popular father-daughter duo

Although Willa should have been asleep ages ago, the little wild boar isn't in the slightest bit sleepy. And it's not even dark yet! So Willa scrambles through the bramble hedge and toddles off into the forest, full of curiosity. On her way, she notices that all the different animals have their own ways of sleeping: the deer sleeps alone in a hollow on the forest floor; the sparrow yawns high up in the treetops, and the bats sleep hanging upside down.

5 Questions for KURT

CHANTAL will function as interpreter wherever necessary.

QUESTION: "Kurt, what's your take on the latest unicorn-themed fashion trend? Are you rolling your eyes at it, or secretly donning some glitter and rainbows when no one's looking?"

KURT: (rolls his eyes)

CHANTAL: "Kurt, would you mind elaborating a bit?"

KURT: (rolls his eyes, walks off to chew on some daisies nearby.)

CHANTAL: (apologetic): "I'm afraid, that's it."

QUESTION: "Kurt, if you were to write a unicorn self-help book, what would the title be, and what pearls of wisdom would you impart to your fellow unicorns who might be tired of all the 'unicorning'?"

KURT: (lifts head from daisies, looks confused)

CHANTAL: "Kurt, I know you are not a writer. But if you were ... could you imagine giving some sound advice to other unicorns, based on your own experience?"

KURT: (knits his brows, thinks, chews)

CHANTAL: "Kurt? Any pearls of wisdom?"

KURT: (sighs)

CHANTAL: "I know it's time for your second breakfast, but if you could maybe just find one piece of advice ...? Just one?"

KURT: One?

CHANTAL: (relieved): "One would be great!"

KURT: If someone comes asking you to answer questions ...

CHANTAL: (eager): "Yes ...?"

KURT: Say "No". (continues chewing)

CHANTAL: "I'm sorry, he's not himself when he doesn't get his seven meals a day at his regular times. (thinks) Well, actually, he's too much himself, when he doesn't."

QUESTION: "Kurt, you seem to find everything about unicorns annoying. So, what's your take on unicorn-themed birthday parties? Are they your idea of a nightmare or just another eye-roll-worthy event?"

KURT: (rolls his eyes)

CHANTAL: "Okay, let's change this around a bit. If you were to have a birthday party, what would you suggest ...?"

KURT: (interrupts): "Daisy themed. Marigold themed. Honey themed. Apple sauce themed. Clover themed. Raspberry themed. Strawberry themed. Blueberry ..."

CHANTAL: (interrupts): "Thanks, Kurt, I think we're getting the idea."

QUESTION: "Kurt, you are famous and very popular. What's your secret recipe for getting some 'me-time' amidst all the unicorning chaos? Or is it an impossible quest for you?"

KURT: "This question makes no sense."

CHANTAL: "Sorry? I think it's very clear: What is your secret ...?"

KURT: (interrupts): "Exactly."

CHANTAL: "Oh."

KURT: "Exactly."

CHANTAL: (to interviewer): "Well, I guess, it's secret."

QUESTION: "What do you think about our Foreign Rights Catalogue? And why should Foreign Publishers translate / buy the books about you?"

KURT: (looks at Chantal reproachfully): "Thinking? Again?" (yawns)

CHANTAL: "I know it's a lot to ask ..."

KURT: "I want to go to sleep now."

CHANTAL: "Yes, in a minute, but why should your adventures be translated?"

"Just a quick answer, okay?"

KURT: "Humph. So I can say 'I want to go to sleep now' in one gazillion languages?" (walks to a nearby patch of clover, tramples the green mattress a little for ultimate comfort, lies down and starts snoring immediately.)

CHANTAL: (relieved): "Thank you, Kurt. You're such a sweetheart. Sleep well." (to interviewer): "You are so lucky, honestly. He's hardly ever been this forthcoming."

The Little Owl Moves House

Picture Book Ages 3+ | 64 Pages

The first read-aloud book of the Little Owl

Moving house – a difficult subject for children is explained in easy rhymes in a way that is suitable for children and has a happy ending

The Little Owl has to move! What a shock, for she loves her little nest with the dormouse as her neighbour. But the tree is simply too rotten and no longer a safe place for the owl. Fortunately, the dormouse tells her a secret: where your loved ones are, you will also feel at home! With this knowledge and the help of many friends, the little owl finds the move much easier. When all her friends visit her in her new nest, the little owl realises that moving is a great thing!

Guten Morgen, kleine Eule!

Die kleine Eule blinzelt leicht,
ist sie im Nest, ja, nein, vielleicht?
Sie hatte einen wirren Traum, mit einer Schaukel hoch im Baum.
Der Baum sah fast wie ihrer aus,
doch irgendwie war's nicht ihr Haus.
Die Augenlider sind noch schwer, doch schaut sie jetzt genau umher.
Und ganz erleichtert stellt sie fest:
„Natürlich bin ich hier im Nest!
Ich bin zu Hause, bin bei mir,
so gemütlich ist's nur hier!“
Sie dreht sich hin, sie dreht sich her.
Doch plötzlich hat sie Lust auf mehr.
Schafft sie einen Purzelbaum?
Wirklich Platz ist dafür kaum.
Und so macht es sofort: „Bam!“
... sie stößt sich das Köpfchen an.

The 3rd volume of the series of read-alouds about three tech-savvy kindergarten children and their ingenious robot

Exciting inventor adventure about a lost gold treasure – perfect for all kindergarten children interested in STEM

Great excitement in the Wonderwall day care centre: a lost Viking gold treasure has turned up, and a second treasure is still buried somewhere! The gang of inventors around Ola, Ebru, Benno and the ingenious robot Smart must find it at all costs. It's hard to believe that the cranky nursery caretaker Mr Knallinger, of all people, is supposed to be the descendant of a Viking. Does this mean that the treasure is buried in his garden? The children immediately have a brilliant idea: they build a pit-digging device.

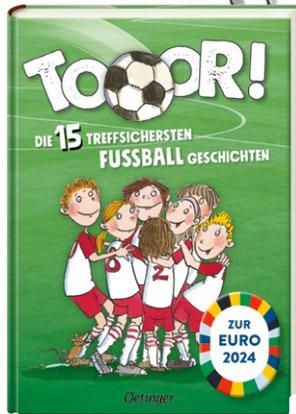

The new volume of the inventor gang by Nicolas Gorny combines technology and the favourite topic of treasure hunting in an inimitably funny way!

What are Feelings Actually for?

Read Aloud Book Ages 5+ | 128 Pages

Short stories about big emotions!
 Fifteen stories about happiness, anger, pride and fear

How is a small child supposed to know that it's perfectly all right to be furious now and again? Or how to cope with fear or know how it feels to be happy? Children have not yet learned to name their feelings, but they experience them all the more acutely for all that. With great sensitivity, Maluna author Andrea Schütze tells of the tumultuous world of emotions and provides entertaining explanations almost in passing.

Fifteen stories about happiness, anger, pride, and fear that turn information into entertaining read-aloud stories containing sensitive explanations and child-appropriate illustrations!

Badger & Squirrel: The Master Sleuths. It Wasn't Me!

Read Aloud Book Ages 4+ | 96 Pages

Humorous detective story with heart and mind: ideal for reading aloud or on your own

Surprising twists and extremely likeable characters in a wonderfully homely forest setting

There's a pile in the middle of the forest. A TREMENDOUS pile! A GIGANTIC poo!!! Who put it there? A dragon? A unicorn? The ants who want to seize wood domination? Rumours are springing up like mushrooms. The animals are faced with a great mystery that can only be solved by the two master sleuths themselves: Badger & Squirrel. The unequal detective duo goes in search of clues, but nobody has seen anything – or smelled anything ...

Anything but stinking normal! A delightfully funny detective story – ideal for reading aloud or on your own.

Tuuli 2. The Great Elf Magic

Read Aloud Book Ages 6+ | 128 Pages

Enchanting mix: nature, Scandinavian mythology and hygge – packed with humour and impressively artistic illustrations

Goblin girl Tuuli and her newfound Dachshund friend Jonte experience nothing less than Great Fairy Magic, when the elves' precious magic scissors fall into the lake and disappear without a trace! Is the sinister Niffel behind it? Or the giant troll roaming the forest below? While the whole elf family prepares for the upcoming Midsummer Festival, Tuuli and Jonte have to go in search of the magic scissors! Because whatever is cut out with their scissors on Midsummer's Eve comes to life! It would be unthinkable if the elves lost their greatest magic. In the end, someone will get a particularly magical gift cut out with them: Jonte. A pretty little pair of wings that he can carry on his back like a little rucksack. And from then on, he and Tuuli (on his back) can fly through the air together.

Helene, a friend of Professor Brausewein's, lives on a coral island far away in the ocean. She researches dragons in a hidden mine. But now two of her protégés are causing her trouble, and she asks the professor for help. Brausewein and the Oggly children rush to Helene in the time machine. Why has little Albert barricaded himself in Helene's laboratory, and what is he doing there? And why has Drago suddenly become so angry and won't let anyone near the laboratory? A difficult case for the Oggles and Brausewein! But who knows, maybe in the end they will be allowed to take one of Helene's little dragons back to Schmuddelfing as a reward?

As poetic as Oliver Jeffers, as scientifically sound as the popular science show KURZGESAGT
 With a lot of heart and brain: Astonishing for both children and adults!

By reading this book, you will understand why stars shine and what this has to do with dancing particles, air pressure and heat. With the carbon cycle of life, CO<sub>2</sub> and plants. With the formation of the Universe, our Milky Way and our Earth. You will learn that this seemingly little question is about life and death. And about building blocks that are created in stars. Building blocks from which everything on our planet is built. Including us. Because we are all made of stardust...

 Non Fiction Ages 7 + | 112 Pages

By reading this book, you will understand why dinos are still alive and what this has to do with the history of the Earth. With evolutionary theory, animal competition and the fact that we survive better when we are very, very diverse. You will understand: This seemingly small question is connected to climate catastrophe, the coexistence of good and bad, mass extinctions, T-Rex monkey bars, and island kiwis. And with us. With the question of how we want to live. And how we are changing the world with our human magic.

Dr Mai Thi Nguyen-Kim, born in 1987, is a PhD chemist who has received many awards for her work, a science journalist (including maiLab, MAITHINK X & Terra X), a recipient of the Order of Merit of the Federal Republic of Germany, and the author of two bestselling non-fiction books.

The GoblinGronigles - 3 Gwest Adventures

Daniel Bleckmann, Thomas Hussung
The GoblinGronigles 3. Class Trip With Glabber

Children's Fiction Ages 9+ | 192 Pages

Perfect for fans of "Diary of a Wimpy Kid" and even reluctant readers: Everyday school life meets a fantastical parallel world and a big secret – with additional app feature

Brilliant illustrations by Thomas Hussung ("The Little Bad Book"), written in a trendy diary style by Daniel Bleckmann

In the third volume of the GoblinGronigles series, Dario and his friends take their class to the North Sea – to finally relax from the exciting missions in the goblin world of Gwertz. In addition to the usual class trip problems (mobile phone ban! The food is disgusting! The bed is too soft!), Lennard continues to ponder over the mysterious Song of the Seven. When the friends meet a blue goblin, a Glabber, on a museum ship, they already suspect that they will soon be travelling to Gwertz again.

Children's Fiction Ages 8 + | 176 Pages

Popular topic "robots": cool or dangerous – or both?

With lots of fun, excitement, fast-paced space adventures, and a lot of humour – motivates even the most reluctant readers!

On Proxima Centauri, the annual school trip is coming up: The school spaceship is supposed to take Sammy's class camping on a forest planet. But the space bus is pulled into a black hole and spat out broken at the other end of the universe! The students are able to leave just in time with the rescue capsules, and Sammy and his friends land on an apparently uninhabited planet. Space debris piles up as high as a house. In the midst of the mountains of rubbish they find a small robot. With its help, they locate the space bus and repair it. But as soon as it is ready for take-off, there is an explosion. That can't be a coincidence! Who is up to mischief on the junk planet?

 Children's Fiction Ages 8 + | 96 Pages

Talking suitcases, trolls and saw-eyes – Fizzi's magical adventures in the wizarding world
 A children's fairy tale, but funny: this book will make both young and old readers smile

Mrs Schmitt is a wicked sorceress as they say in the book: she is bad-tempered and mean and loves to conjure up bad things like floods, forest fires or erasers that tear holes in exercise books. Her 11-year-old daughter Fizzi is quite different. But above all, Fizzi has nothing to do with magic. "That can't be right!" exclaims Mrs Schmitt and whisks Fizzi off to the netherworld - and her eternally nagging husband along with her. But the world in between isn't so scary after all and Fizzi soon discovers that she too harbours little magical powers.

Paul Maar's new fantasy book takes young readers into a colourful world full of magic, magical creatures and exciting adventures. A magical, modern fairy tale with many loving illustrations by Paul Maar's grandson: Hannes Maar.

Dark World 3. The Magical Journey Through Time

Children's Fiction Ages 10 + | 256 P.

What is going on with the Dark World? The book suddenly has a friendly blue cover, smells of flowers, and sprays glitter and stars. And even the dark forrest suddenly looks as colourful as a fairy paradise. It is clear to Leonie and Tristan: something is very wrong here. When an excursion to the fairy tale age is scheduled, the two see their chance to put an end to the fairy tale haunting once and for all. But then Tristan is kidnapped and his kidnappers demand the Dark World as ransom. Leonie now needs all her courage and ingenuity to save her friend – and the entire fairytale world.

Ice Guardians 1: The Power of the Glaciers

Children's Fiction Ages 10 + | 272 Pages

There is no place on earth where twelve-year-old Cléo has not been. For as long as she can remember, she has been touring the world with her musician father and never really feels like she belongs. There is only one place her father would never go: Cléo's birthplace in the French Alps. From there, her mother Dana disappeared without a trace twelve years ago. After her father has an accident, Cléo is taken there by her grandmother, of all places: to a mysterious academy on a glacier in the middle of the Alps. When Cléo arrives there, fresh snow has fallen. She is not cold. What is going on here? Then the evidence thickens that Cléo's mother was once a pupil at the frosty boarding school. What happened when Cléo was a baby? And what's the story with the aggressive rodents that keep ambushing Cléo? Fortunately, Cléo finds friends at the academy – she will need them, because the adventure of her life is about to begin!

Popular bodyguard topic with a feminist slant: he's the Prince of Hades, she's his bodyguard

Exciting settings in the real and mythological worlds alike – an original new interpretation of Greek myths

Taru ekes out a dismal existence. He hasn't been able to leave his apartment in New York for centuries – his punishment for an unforgivable crime. The Furies are just waiting to rip him to pieces if he makes a mistake. His chance encounter with Rio changes everything: he discovers that he's invisible to the Furies when he's with her. Thus he hires her to protect him. Together they set off to find Pandora, the only one who can lift the curse on Taru. But nothing can prepare Rio and Taru for the things they will discover about themselves. And about one another.

After Pandora's revelations, Rio no longer knows where her head is. She is supposed to be a goddess of fate? She hopes for comfort from Taru, but he threatens to sink into his own darkness and seems unable to catch her. Bitterly disappointed in him, Rio finally goes to Olympus – the epicentre of the world of the gods. Here she finds a second family and finally her first answers. None other than Zeus takes her on and pushes her appointment as goddess of fate, which would bind her to Olympus forever. Which puts Taru on the spot. He has already lost his only love to Zeus once, and he is not prepared to let that happen again. What he hasn't considered in the process: Rio is not a woman to be saved. And she is hell-bent on taking her fate into her own hands. Even if she has to take on Taru – and the father of the gods himself.

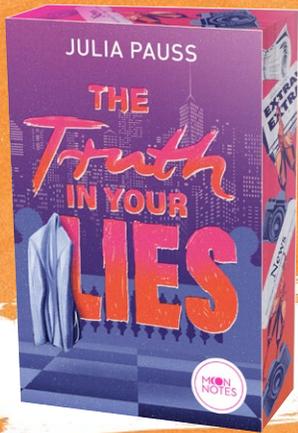

Witches – repackaged for the New Adult market in a thrilling urban romantasy with added crime elements

Lose your heart in magical London. Jack the Ripper is back – according to the headlines which are causing the whole of London to hold its breath.

However, young witch Reva knows the truth: the murderer is one of them. As a detective working for the Witches' Secret Society, it's her job to get to the bottom of things. A clue leads her to New London, her one-time home city which lies hidden behind a magic veil. There she needs the help of charismatic sorcerer Gabriel, of all people. She'd rather do without him making her heart flutter – but if she wants to solve the crime, she has no choice but to work with him. Before long, there's more at stake than just her heart ...

Although Reva has uncovered a conspiracy within the elite of New London, she has been unable to find the true culprit behind the series of murders in the human world. As unrest in witch society grows, she returns to her magical home in search of answers. In the midst of roaring festivities, she has to find out who is friend and who is foe. In the process, her secret feelings for Gabriel are anything but helpful. Especially as he is firmly convinced that he must fulfil his duties as the spring heir. But it is not only her forbidden longing that complicates the investigation, but also the growing darkness within herself. A race against time begins in which she could lose everything ...

30 Moments – On Special Encounters, Difficult Decisions and the Small and Big Moments in Between

Young Adult Fiction Ages 16 + | 208 P.

Self-exploration with influencer and bestselling author Lina Mallon

Intimate insights, life confessions – a great inspiration for strong women

Which decisions set the course for our lives?
Which encounters change the way we think?
And what makes us become the person we are?

Lina Mallon gets to the bottom of all these questions for herself and tells of love, of failure, of the small and big moments that the journey to oneself holds in store – in a very personal and intimate way.

30 Women – On Girl Power, Strong Women, Weak Moments, and Finding Yourself

Non Fiction Ages 14 + | 208 P.

From the successful blogger and podcaster Lina Mallon: 30 stories about 30 women

How I became the woman I am now. In her latest book, Lina Mallon writes about the female friends and other women who have affected her life. With great frankness and openness, she describes real support, unexpected opposition, friendship disappointments, the strength of Girl Power, and the dilemma in which women of all ages can find themselves: meeting the expectations of society whilst fulfilling their own dreams and desires. Our greatest challenge is not to lose ourselves at this point but to find our own way as women. Above all, Mallon emphasises the importance of women mutually supporting one another, being honest with one another, and even being able to criticise one another in a constructive way so that they can grow together rather than being competitive with one another.

Pixton Love 1. Never Without You

Young Adult Fiction Ages 16 + | 416 P.

Sexy, intense, and full of feeling: a breathless, heart-racing college romance
Written from the perspective of both lovers

Just as she does every year, Abigail sneaks into the freshers' party at Pixton University and spends the day living out her dream of being a Law student. A dream which is completely unrealisable for her. Ever since becoming the sole carer for Ophelia, now five, she has neither the time nor the money to become a student. But at this year's party, something unexpected happens: she meets handsome medical student Quincy who turns her head in the space of just one night. He thinks she's a Pixton student, and doesn't know anything about Ophelia. How long can she keep her secret? Which will win out: head or heart?

Pixton Love 2. Always by Your Side

Young Adult Fiction Ages 16 + | 400 P.

For all fans of Mona Kasten and Sarah Sprinz

Spicy college romance full of heartbreak and with the successful Friends-to-Lovers trope

Everything is going perfectly for Scarlett: she studies literature at Yale University and lives with her parents in sleepy Pixton. She spends her time writing erotic romance novels or with her best friend Abigail. But when her religious parents find out about her hobby, everything changes. They kick Scarlett out of the house and cut off her financial support. From one day to the next, Scarlett is homeless and sleeping in her car. But she keeps this to herself. Only the unconventional psychology student Theo sees through her cheerful façade, and so the two slowly get closer. What Scarlett doesn't know: Theo also has a secret ...
